McDonald Racer #37

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

John Zayac of the McDonald Racer #37 competes for 1st place in the T-6 Gold Class of the 2012 National Championship Air Races

Racing in the "World's Fastest Motor Sport"

DENVER, Colo., August 10, 2012 - John Zayac, pilot of the McDonald Racer #37, will compete for 1st place in the T-6 Gold Class, at the 49th Annual National Championship Air Races. The races will be September 12-16, 2012 in Reno, Nev.

John Zayac, competes annually in the National Championship Air Races. He has been flying in the races for the past 12 years and is one of the top T-6 race pilots in the world. Zayac took 2nd place in the T-6 Gold Class in 2010. Unfortunately, due to the tragic P-51 accident during an Unlimited Gold Class race in 2011, the National Championship Air Races were cancelled.

The McDonald Racer #37 crew is comprised of a multitude of individuals that all have the same goal of winning the National Championship Air Races. The passion and determination of the crew keeps the team moving towards that finish line. Their 2012 goals include: Increase children's interest in aviation, setting a new T-6 speed record, and placing 1st in the T-6 Gold Class.
